PREFERRED SURFACES

Smooth linen canvas panel ONE large, TWO small

You will need THREE canvases for this workshop. You will need one larger canvas for the first three days and two smaller canvases for the last two days. The larger canvas should be roughly 16x20" to 18x24" to give you more room to paint some of the figure. The two smaller canvases don't need not be any larger than 14x18" since we will be focusing on the portrait. Whatever surface you use, its needs to be smooth with a just a little texture.

Unless you have a favorite surface, I suggest you order a linen canvas panel from Artefex (<https://artefex.biz/product/allinpanel-acrylic-primed-100-linen-canvas/>). If you're ordering from Artefex, use discount code "Casey20" for 20% off, I want you to buy a fine or extra-fine weave linen. Anton will give you free shipping if you ship your panels to the workshop.

PALETTE

I use a handheld palette. I never used a handheld palette until I began studying with William Whitaker, and now it's the only type of palette I use. There are good reasons to use a handheld palette, but you're welcome to use any type of palette you choose.

New Wave Art (<http://newwaveart.com>)

I use the Expressionist Confidant <https://newwaveart.com/collections/maple-wood-palettes-neutral-grey-stain> I love these palettes for their unique design, balance, and durability.

PAINTING KNIFE

Please have a clean painting knife with a long, graceful shape. Use a razor blade to scrape off any encrusted paint.
